

WEST CHESTER BREAKS GROUND ON NEW LIBRARY

After months of working with architects and a citizen's advisory panel, West Chester Township and Middletown Public Library officials are prepared to break ground on a new library that exceeds the demand for library services and creates a civic presence in the heart of the Union Centre Business District.

A public groundbreaking ceremony will take place at 5:30 p.m. June 11th at the new library site, Centre Pointe Drive, just east of Union Centre Boulevard. Everyone will be invited to join in the celebration and dig some dirt as construction begins on this important community project.

The new library will be more than three times larger than the current library and will feature a larger community meeting space, a café area, an expanded children's activities area, quiet study rooms and more computer stations. It will be constructed adjacent to West Chester's Square @ Union Centre and will have a welcoming outdoor area that links to the park.
